Art Unit: 2653

1) The preliminary amendment filed 12/04/2001 is acknowledged.

2) Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

3) The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. The following title is suggested.

OPTICAL DISK HAVING MULTIPLE DIELECTRIC LAYERS IN CONTACT WITH RECORDING LAYER.

4) The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

5) (e) the invention was described in:

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6) Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by UTSUNOMIYA et al (6,154,437).

Art Unit: 2653

UTSUNOMIYA et al discloses an optical disk as claimed in claim 1, comprising:

a substrate (Fig.3, 2);

a data-recording layer made of organic material (Fig.3, recording layer 4);

a dielectric part (Fig.3, 31, 32);

a light-transmitting layer (Fig.3, 2. In this case, the substrate 2 functions as light-transmitting layer);

wherein data is recorded by applying a laser beam to the data-recording layer through the light-transmitting layer, the dielectric part comprises a nitride layer contacting the data-recording layer and an oxide layer or a fluoride layer laid on the nitride layer, and the nitride layer has a thickness of at most 10 nm (column 9, line 49 to column 10, line 20).

7) The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8) This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9) Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over UTSUNOMIYA et al (6,154,437).

UTSUNOMIYA et al discloses all the subject matter claimed as in claim 2 (see column 17, lines 54-58 for wavelength of 100nm to 5000nm), except to specifically show that the reflectance of the beam is 15% to 25% at initial condition (before data is recorded) and is 0% to 10% after data is record. However, the reflectance of the beam irradiates on the optical disk at 15% to 25% at initial condition (before data is recorded) and at 0% to 10% after data is record is standard conditions of next generation of high density optical disk. Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made would have been motivated to use an optical disk with the reflectance of 15% to 25% at initial condition (before data is recorded) and at 0% to 10% after data is record as claimed.

Art Unit: 2653

10) The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure (See form PTO-892 attached herein).

Applicant is reminded that in amending in response to a rejection of claims (if the rejection involves with any applicable arts), the patentable novelty must be clearly shown in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited and the objection made. Applicant must also show how the amendments avoid such references and objections. See 37 CFR §1.111(c).
